Official Denies Gas Plant Health Hazard In Pass

(The Lethbridge Herald)

An official of Westcoast Transmission Company Friday denied a charge that their gas processing plant west of Coleman will create a health hazard to the residents of the Pass.

Frank McMahon, president of the Westcoast Transmission Co., Ltd., said: "The location of the proposed plant at Coleman is, as far as we know, satisfactory and it should not create a nuisance and should not be a hazard to health. We have made a thorough investigation of this and expect approval from the Conservation Board of Alberta."

Saturday, William Kovach, Hillcrest M.A., expressed concern that gas emitted from the natural gas processing plant would be a health hazard to the Crows Nest Pass towns.

Dangerous amounts of hydrogen sulphide gases could accumulate in the low lying areas west of the plant he said. He recommended that the residents of the Pass request an investigation by the provincial government of the possible danger before approval is given for the $20 million plant.

An alternate location—at Little, north of the Pass—was suggested by Mr. Kovach. This would eliminate the possible danger of the gas hanging over the Pass towns, he said.

Mr. McMahon said no alternate location has been sought by Westcoast Transmission since the company is satisfied with the chosen site at Sentinel, four miles west of Coleman, is satisfactory.

When the company investigated, the dangers of "sour gas" was not revealed by Mr. McMahon.

Government departments have been asked by Mr. Kovach to investigate the possible danger. If the provincial government intends to study the possible problem, it will have to be done quickly.

Approval for the plant will be sought by Westcoast when the Conservation Board of Alberta meets in mid-January.

If approval is granted, construction will begin almost immediately, Mr. McMahon stated.

Plans for the scrubbing plant are to have it in operation before the end of 1961.

It will be used to purify natural gas for transmission from the southwest Alberta gas fields to the U. S. market.

Guy Fleming Found Dead

Guy Fleming, an old-timer of Coleman and the Pass district, was found dead at his home this week.

Neighbors noticed no activity around the home and went over to the bachelor's home and found the door locked. RCMP police of Blairmore detachment, were notified and investigated and found Mr. Fleming dead. It is estimated that he passed away around Christmas Day.

Coroner W. A. Macleod of Pincher Creek advised that no inquest would be held.

Mr. Fleming, 77 years of age, was born December 1st, 1883, in County of Spokane, Wash. He came to Canada in 1905 and farmed in Champion district for a number of years and then at Lundbreck, Passburg and Burmis, prior to coming to Coleman in 1928.

During his many years in Coleman, Mr. Fleming operated a ranch west of Coleman, and was still very active, riding his own horse and doing ranch chores.

He was an Alberta Senior Citizen, and was presented with his scroll.

He is survived by his wife Jeanette of Red Deer; two sons, Arthur of Red Deer, and Delbert of Edmonton; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. (Grace) Humble of Nampa, Idaho, and Mrs. F. A. (Betty) Holwood of Blackfalds, Alberta; 21 grandchildren, four great-grandchildren; two brothers, Walter and Leonard of Washington, and one sister, Margaret Eaton of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., and one sister, Mrs. Bessie Johnston of Great Falls, Montana.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Paul's United Church in Coleman at 3 p.m. on Saturday afternoon and interment was made in the Coleman Union cemetery.

Hall's Funeral Service Ltd., of Blairmore, was in charge of the arrangements.

TAKING THE PASS

Three Coleman Men Net Jail Terms

Three Coleman Hungarian men will spend time in the Lethbridge Provincial jail as the result of a fight they became involved in at a Coleman hotel on the morning of Christmas Eve.

George Vajna was sentenced to spend one year in Lethbridge jail on a charge of assault occasioning bodily harm which resulted from him unmercifully beating another man.

Steve Leibert, also of Coleman, netted three months on a charge of common assault.

Ferenc Jaksic of Coleman, will also spend one month in jail due to the fact that he was unable to pay the fine of $50 and costs levied by Magistrate F. S. Radford of Blairmore, who heard the case.

Jaksic was so badly mauled in the fight that took place in an hotel room, that he had to have some 15 stitches to close some of the wounds he received from being struck by a chair.

Chief of Police Ed Corson laid charges. A fourth man involved in the affair will appear at a later date.

Vicary Mine To Re-open

In an interview with D. B. Young, general manager and vice-president of Coleman Collieries on Tuesday last, Mr. Young indicated that work at the Vicary Mine of the Collieries would more than likely resume on January 2, 1961. As arrangements have been completed for the hire of three ships to transport coal to Japan.

The mine has been idle since November 25th due to lack of ships. The temporary shut-down affected some 90 employees of the mine, who will soon be returning to work.

Work at the Vicary in turn means additional work for outside workers, including men at preparation and washing plants as well as the truckers who haul the coal from Vicary Mine, 12 miles north of Coleman, to the coal cleaning plant in town.

The three ships will handle some 22,000 short tons of coal which will boost the tonnage shipped from Coleman Collieries to Japanese steel markets during the past year to some 116,000 long tons, which is in excess of the 100,000 long tons of coal contracted for last year.

All coal from the Coleman Collieries is going to Japanese steel firms and is used to produce coke for the steel industries.

Coleman Collieries are at present negotiating for new Japanese contracts and expect to conclude the contracts by the end of January or early in February as the present contract year expires on March 1, 1961.

Coal from the local mines is shipped by rail to Port Moody on the West Coast where bulk loading facilities have been built during the past year. The coal, loaded aboard ocean-going vessels, then is shipped via water to the Orient.

Local Posters To Be Entered In Calgary Contest

Miss Patricia Kapalka, 14, and Miss Judy Vioen, 13, won first prize among the entries submitted in the Coleman "Nesters" CYO Christmas Tieme Poster Contest held during the past month.

The winning poster displayed by the two girls was judged by some 10 local business men and out-of-town travellers, who selected the poster from among other entries.

The girls were awarded a five dollar cash prize from the local CYO and the winning poster will now be submitted to Calgary Diocesan Catholic Youth Federation competition for a trophy award prize.

Theme for the poster contest in the Federation is "Put Christ Back Into Christmas".

Winners of the local competition were announced at a CYO meeting held in Coleman recently.

William Kosma Passes Dec. 24

William Kosma, of Coleman, passed away in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Christmas Day following a long period of ill health.

Mr. Kosma, 65 years of age, was born on December 23rd, 1885, in Broomfield, Austria. He came to Canada as a youth, settling in Lethbridge, where he worked for a number of years prior to coming to Coleman in 1941.

He worked as a miner at the International Mine until it shut down and then became employed at the Waterton Lakes Park, where he worked until he became ill.

He was a member of the Coleman Elks Lodge and of the Civil Servants Association of Waterton Lakes. Surviving are his wife Mary Kosma of Port Macleod, and one daughter, Mrs. G. (Rose) Lant of Coleman; three grandchildren, and two sisters in the Old Country.

Prayers were said at the Chapel of Halls Funeral Service Ltd. in Blairmore at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday evening last, and Requiem High Mass was celebrated from the Coleman Holy Ghost Catholic Church at 11:30 Wednesday morning.

Interment followed in the Coleman Holy Ghost Catholic cemetery. The Rev. Denis Fleming officiated at the services.

Pass School Rinks Attend Bonspiel

High schools in the Crows Nest Pass towns were well represented at the Lethbridge junior high school bonspiel held in the Civic Centre during the past week-end.

Attending the affair from Coleman were the Joe Wavrean, Jr. rink, and the Don Wilson rink, while from Blairmore were Lloyd Pilemek and Joe Vasek rinks.

The Frank Capron rink was also present from Bellevue.

All report having had an excellent time at the affair.

In 1958 the sale of beer, wine and liquor accounted for 50.7 per cent of total receipts of Canada's 5,088 hotels.

Announce Winners In Christmas Home Decorations

A committee of judges in Coleman comprising Dr. Emil Aiello, Chief of Police Ed Corson and Bert Bond have announced this week that the winners of prizes for best decorated homes in Coleman during Christmas week are as follows:

Winners in town — first, Mrs. Marjorie Kubick; second, Jack Colwell; third, Aldo Montalbetti; fourth, Bill Holyk and fifth, Peruelo DeCocco.

Prizes to these winners which are sponsored by the town will be mailed. Winners of prizes in the out-of-town areas, provided by Angelo Gentile of the Grand Union Hotel are: Mrs. A. Panke home and the Ron Fyfe home.

The judges also made honorable mention of the A. Karpenko home, the R. Montalbetti home, the Mrs. E. Malanchuk home and the John Wavrean home.

Judging of the homes was done on Christmas Eve between hours of 7 and 8 p.m.

The committee pointed out that judging was very difficult as many homes were extremely well decorated. They also pointed out that many homes, although very well decorated, lost points due to a lack of lighting while others had too many lights of the same color.

First Aid Classes To Start

In Canada there is a branch or a sub-branch of a bank for every 3600 Canadians. In provision of such facilities, Canada leads the world.

Shipments of Canadian made motor vehicles in 1959 rose 25 per cent.

A safeguard to the consumer are the individual licenses now required by Alberta statute by door-to-door salesman in the province. The licenses which list the salesman's name, company and product, must be produced on request from a prospective customer.

The regulations requiring the licensing of direct salesmen are contained in amendments to the Licensing of Trades and Business Act which came into effect August 1st, 1960.

Affected by the regulations are salesmen selling door-to-door, soliciting orders for goods for future delivery, and soliciting persons to enter into a contract whereby the person has the right to thereafter purchase goods. This includes direct mail and telephone solicitation. The order does not affect farmers selling produce raised in the province or the regulations and are as follows: A commercial agent hiring no salesman, but engaged in selling, $25.00; where up to five salesmen are employed, $100.00; over five salesmen, $200.00. The individual license fee is $5.00.

A person suffering from a bodily defect, injury or incapacity is eligible to receive a license at no fee upon receipt of a recommendation from the mayor or municipal clerk in the applicant's residence area.

It is expected the regulations will affect more than 1,000 salesmen presently doing business in the province as well as many more inter-provincial business men who carry on business in more than one province and visit Alberta only periodically.

Fees for the licenses are designed to offset the cost of administering

TO THINK IT MIGHT HAVE ENDED LIKE THIS

Primitive man had it tough—most of the other animals were bigger and stronger. Fortunately, man had brains... and a wife... or he might have ended up on the wrong side of the plow.

In the early days men competed with earth's other creatures—today men compete with other men to develop energy sources. In the process our standard of living has sky rocketed.

Competition has helped Canadians achieve one of the world's highest living standards. Take the way it works in the oil business—Imperial Oil and hundreds of other companies compete to supply Canadians with oil. As a result, oil is available at reasonable prices wherever it is needed—and Canadians have turned to oil for more than half their energy needs.

Of Many Things (By Ambrose Hills)

A New Year's Resolution
Here's a suggested Resolution for Canadians. If everyone adopted it there's little doubt but what 1961 would turn out very well indeed. At any rate, you are welcome to adopt it.

"During the next 12 months I shall do my best to be a good citizen—a good neighbor, a useful person. I shall follow the precept of the great religious leader, John Wesley, who said 'Work all you can, gain all you can, give all you can'.

"I shall do my level best to provide for all the needs of my family and myself, so that I shall not be a charge upon others. Indeed, it will be my goal to earn enough to give a helping hand to others if need be.

"I shall refrain from asking others to do for me anything which I might rightfully be expected to do for myself. And I shall encourage friends and neighbors to take a similar attitude.

"Whatever my job, I shall do it well, because I know that the best efforts of all men and women are required if Canada is to remain strong and free in these perilous times. I know that when I work efficiently, my neighbor is able to buy the goods or services I produce at a more reasonable price. The more efficiently I work, the more goods or services can be bought with a dollar bill—whether it be the dollar of an old-age pensioner, or the dollar in my wife's purse when she goes out to shop for our family.

"I firmly resolve to be a force for good in my community by reforming myself rather than seeking to reform my neighbor. I shall look for the good in others and try to get rid of the bad in me.

"I know full well there will be many times when I shall be tempted to be a drug on society, rather than a driving force. There will be times when the urge to be small, or mean, or selfish will assert itself. On such occasions I shall ask myself if such an act will help or hurt Canada. If it hurts Canada, in the long run it will hurt me, and hurt my children.

"In brief, each day of the New Year I shall direct my every act to this end: that I shall give full value to everyone with whom I deal."

Of Many Things (By Ambrose Hills)

If You're Homely, Read This
I talked to the television producer after he had auditioned some 30 hopefuls. He was feeling low. He had hired a boy and a girl but neither was quite what he had hoped for.

I was surprised. Seldom in my life, I told him, had I seen so many beautiful girls and handsome young men.

"That," he sighed, "is precisely the trouble. Most of that gang were so darned good looking they had no character. TV needs personalities. These good looking kids get told by all their relatives and friends they ought to be on TV. Chances are ten to one that if some guy with a pug nose, big ears and a wide, very friendly grin had come in for an audition, we'd have grabbed him. Was Clark Gable terribly handsome? Are half the movie queens really beautiful in the usual sense? No darn chance. Features need to be a bit different, even a little scrambled, if you're going to get a distinctive character before the camera."

Well, I don't know about TV. For my money, they still seem to choose the handsome boys and the statistical girls, but I get sick of them. I saw a youngster on TV the other day who would be called homely by his pals but he looked mighty good to me, with his ears sticking out and his nose tipped up. And I suppose some would say that Joyce Sullivan is too tall... but to me she radiates real charm and personality. She's a little different, and she doesn't have that rapid uniformity of features some people call beauty. Everybody at our house thinks she is beautiful and we'd like to see her on TV more often.

When I was a young lad, I used to worry about my prominent Adam's apple. Lord knows how much I tortured myself on that account—and so needlessly. Looking back now, I realize that most of my good looking friends wound up with wives who can't touch mine for looks. I asked my wife just now if she'd ever had misgivings about me on account of my Adam's apple. Her exact reply was this:

"Good heavens, no! I kind of liked it. Most girls like homely men best."

So you see, sonny. If you are worried about your looks, forget it.

M.P. Writes re Strikes, Lock-outs

OTTAWA, Ont. — Now that the grain handlers' strike at Vancouver is over, and the railroad strike has been handled for the time being by special legislation, I am now in a position to report to the various FUA locals, individual farmers and others who sent telegrams and letters concerning these strikes. These were all greatly appreciated.

It is not generally known that there is no act on the Statute Books of Canada to stop a strike or a lock-out, because the government is required to take a neutral position except in a national emergency. Under the Canadian "Industrial Relations and Disputes Regulations Act", there are no provisions to prevent a strike nor compel resumption of work.

The Minister of Labor has the authority to provide a conciliation board to assist both sides in a labor dispute. This was done in both the grain handlers' strike and the railroad strike.

Unfortunately, the reports of the conciliation boards are not always acceptable to both sides, as was demonstrated in each of these strikes. At Vancouver, the board brought in a report which was acceptable to management, but not to the workers. The reverse was true in the railroad strike. In such a case it has been suggested that compulsory arbitration should be employed, but Labor is bitterly opposed to this method of settling labor disputes.

Each side in a labor dispute thinks the government should enter on its side, and those who are ill-informed, or are inclined to Communist or Socialist thinking, delight in the pastime of blaming the government, when actually the two parties to the dispute are alone to blame for not being able to arrive at a settlement.

The paying of a subsidy to compensate strikers until the dispute was settled was discussed.

The railroads contended that they were unable to pay increased wages without a rise in freight rates which have been frozen until the Royal Commission Report is issued in March. (As you know, Mr. Arnold Platt, former president of the FUA, is a member of this commission. I supported his appointment and I have great confidence in the ability of the commission to do the best job possible). If a government subsidy had been granted it would create a bad precedent, as every other industry faced with a strike would immediately call on the government to pay the strikers' wage bill until a settlement could be reached.

If the railroad strike had been permitted to go on as scheduled the country would have been faced with national economic paralysis, and it was therefore necessary for Parliament to act promptly. The only reasonable course of action was to pass legislation to keep the railroads functioning. This was done, with the full support of all the Progressive Conservative Members.

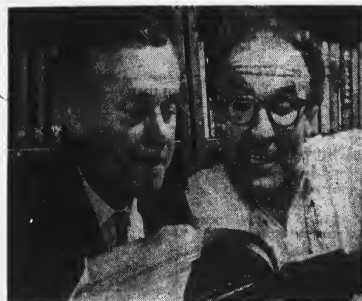

However, the Liberal opposition voted against it, and so did the O.C.F.

After years of experience with strikes, neither Great Britain nor the United States has found a method to force the settlement of strikes. I wish every organization would hold an open forum on this subject, because this is your country and this is your problem as well as mine. You have, through your Member of Parliament, the ear of the government, as you have never had before, and I need your suggestions and your advice.

Yours sincerely,
Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.
Federal Constituency of Macleod.

ACTOR INTO BOOKWORM

It's a neat trick to turn an actor into a book worm but Barry Morse and Alan King manage it each year when they begin research for their CBC radio series, A Touch of Greasepaint. The program began October 16 on the Trans-Canada network. The two actors are hard at work preparing another season of shows about famous plays and personalities of the theatre.

ANNUAL JUDGING DAY TO BE HELD JANUARY 7

The Willow Valley Trophy Club's twelfth annual judging day will be held in the Lundbreck Community hall on Saturday, January 7th, with the program scheduled to get underway at 1:00 p.m.

Trophies for big game heads will be awarded to those who show the largest heads in sheep, goat, elk, mule deer, white tail deer, non-typical mule deer, moose and antelope, according to Boone and Crockett scoring charts.

All big game heads, regardless of the date they are killed or by whom killed, are eligible for the Grand Champion Trophy in sheep, goat, elk, moose and mule deer. To be eligible for any trophy other than the Grand Champion, a person must have become a member of the Club before the big game season opened. For the Grand Champion Trophy, a person may join at any time prior to judging of the head.

Competitions for the Ed and Babe Trophy may be entered by hunters who wish to enter bear and cougar as well as the above-mentioned big game.

The Club have pointed out that big game pick-up stations have been set up at Whinn's garage at Lundbreck; Co-op Store at Cowley; McNab and Cleland International Harvester at Pincher Creek; Jerry's Sport Shop, Bellevue; Crows Nest Pass Motors, Blairmore; or with any Willow Valley Club Charter member. Heads must be turned into these stations by 12 noon on January 4th in order to give judges a chance to pick up the heads and judge them before judging day as all heads could not be judged in one day.

All those living within 25 miles radius of these stations must leave their game heads at these stations, otherwise they will not be judged, except those heads which are mounted or in the process of being mounted, or are outside the 25 mile limit, and these heads must be in Lundbreck hall by 12 noon on Trophy Day, January 7th.

The Boone and Crockett regulation requiring a $3 entry fee has been abolished and any entry above minimum will be forwarded to Boone and Crockett. All entries must be accompanied with tag and also the name and address of the owner and the date the animal was killed.

The awards for the fishing section of the Willow Valley Club will also be awarded during the afternoon. All sportsmen holding trophies for big game are requested to have the trophies returned on or before the judging day so that new winners can be duly presented with their awards. A lunch and other entertainment is being planned for the judging day event that is drawing sportsmen from all over Alberta.

Post Office Announce New Stamps

Of interest to the novice stamp collector or professional philatelist is the announcement made recently by Mr. William Hamilton, postmaster general of Canada. Four new postage stamps will be issued early in the New Year.

The first issue, to be released on February 8th, will be a tribute to the development of Canada's Northland and the increasing activity there in recent years.

On March 10, a new stamp will be issued to commemorate the centennial of the birth of Emily Pauline Johnson, Indian poetess. Miss Johnson, a Mohawk, was born, according to most authorities on the 10th of March, 1861, at 'Chiefswood' on the Six Nations Indian Reservation in Ontario. She died on March 7, 1913, at Vancouver, B. C., after making a unique contribution to Canadian literature.

In keeping with tradition, the late Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, a former prime minister of Canada, will be remembered in a special issue which will be released on April 19. Mr. Meighen served two terms as prime minister from July 10, 1920, to December 29, 1921, and from June 19, 1926, to September 25, 1926. Mr. Meighen died at Toronto on August 6, 1940.

The tenth anniversary of the Colombo Plan will be marked by a special stamp to be issued on June 28 in time for the Official Colombo Plan Anniversary to be celebrated on July 1st. Canada has participated actively and substantially in both the fields of capital and technical assistance to fellow commonwealth countries, and more recently, to other countries under the terms of the Colombo Plan.

The Post Office Department has plans for other issues which will appear in the latter part of the year and these will be announced as soon as the subjects have been confirmed.

Salvation Army Proclamation

A proclamation stating the religious and moral position of The Salvation Army will be read in all Salvation Army Watchtower Services and during the first Sunday of the New Year in Churches across the nation. Commissioner W. Booth made this announcement in Toronto December 20, 1960.

The Salvation Army, brought into being by the inspiration of Almighty God through His work in the hearts of William and Catherine Booth 96 years ago, views with deep concern the apostasy and irreligion of the present day.

In view of universal laxity towards God's moral order on the one hand, and the awful threat of global destruction on the other, The Salvation Army declares its unwavering convictions and purposes, and proclaims that:

"It is its God-given mission to make known that repentance from sin, and faith in the redemption purchased by Jesus in His death on Calvary, are the conditions of Salvation; and that such Salvation is for all the world, regardless of race, color, creed, age or circumstance.

"Its Officers and Soldiers will press a spiritual offensive, seeking to win the young from a materialistic and self-seeking outlook, to one of service to God; to lead into Salvation those who have fallen prey to godlessness and sin; and literally to fulfill the last instruction of Jesus when He was on earth, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel."

"It views with profound sorrow the false creeds and hopes by which men comfort themselves that all will be with them in spite of their sinful lives.

"On the authority of God's Word a firm stand must be taken on the observance of the Sabbath Day, remembering that nations or individuals who disregard it do so to their own loss.

"No change has been made in The Salvation Army's convictions concerning morality as taught by Jesus Christ.

"The Salvation Army is unwavering in its stand against intoxicating drinks and harmful drugs, and will continue to do all things possible to save both young and old from their bondage.

"Contemplating these thoughts — Salvationists throughout Canada are called upon to renew their dedication to Christian living and service, believing that Jesus Christ is the only Hope for mankind; to pray for the world, for the leaders of nations, that hate may be displaced by peace, and that so-called Christian nations shall return to God and His guidance, thus bringing the fulfillment of prophecy "Peace shall cover the earth again as the waters cover the sea."

The well-planned kitchen has ample cupboard space and is convenient to both the dining room and rear service entrance. The separate compartment arrangement in the bathroom is another feature.

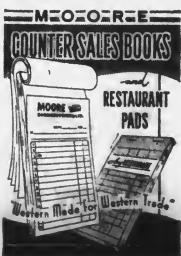

© The floor area is 1,391 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 48 feet by 29 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 256, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Police Have Busy Session

Police throughout the Crows Nest Pass towns report that although a busy Christmas week-end was experienced by the departments that there were no serious accidents and no serious troubles.

A rash of small accidents were attended to as well as many minor incidents. Dances, parties and other celebrations were well attended due to good weather conditions and orderly behavior was predominant at all affairs.
